

SHOCKING ACCIDENT RESULTS IN TRAGIC DEATH OF SISTERS

Misses Edith and Hazel Pfeiffer Fatally Crushed and Virgil Bryan and Darius Cleary Badly Injured When Machine in Which They Are Riding Takes Fatal Plunge Into Ditch and Turns Turtle—Young Women Picked Up Unconscious and Death Quickly Follows.

ACCIDENT OCCURS LATE SUNDAY EVENING ON WATERLOO PIKE NEAR JOHN THARP RESIDENCE

Both Young Women Horribly Crushed Under Machine and Miss Edith Dies Within Few Minutes—Miss Hazel Is Rushed to Fayette Hospital and Dies Two Hours Later.

First Victim Was At Wheel And Unfamiliar With The Machine, Losing Control of The Auto at Critical Moment and Owner of Machine Was Powerless to Prevent Crash.

The most shocking and fatal automobile accident that ever occurred in Fayette county, took place on the Waterloo pike five miles east of this city, Sunday evening, when Miss Edith Pfeiffer, aged 20, and Miss Hazel Pfeiffer, aged 22, both of this city, were killed, and their companions, Virgil Bryan, a young farmer of Wayne township, and Darius Cleary, of New Holland, were badly injured.

The terrible accident took place 100 yards west of the residence of John Tharp at 5:20 o'clock, when the machine with Miss Edith Pfeiffer at the wheel, plunged into the ditch and turned completely over, leaving death and ruin in its wake.

Crushed and bleeding the young women were carried to the Tharp residence and a physician summoned from this city, but Edith passed away within a few minutes after the physician's arrival and the other young woman, in a dying condition, was rushed to the Fayette Hospital where everything known to human skill failed to stay the Angel of death, and she joined her sister in death shortly after eight o'clock.

Thus, in almost an instant's time, death in all of its horror came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pfeiffer, of Milwood, and tore from them their two beloved daughters, leaving the parents heartbroken and nearly crazed with the deepest grief the human heart can know, while the entire community bows down in sorrow with them over the loss of their beloved.

The two young women, in company with Mr. Bryan and Mr. Cleary, left this city a half hour before the tragedy, for a ride in Mr. Bryant's new Chalmers touring car.

Mr. Bryan was at the wheel, but when near the scene of the accident Miss Edith Pfeiffer, according to statements made by the two men, asked to run the machine, stating that she could do so with ease. Mr. Bryant gave up his seat at the wheel and Miss Pfeiffer took the wheel and the machine started onward, going at some 20 miles per hour, until Miss Pfeiffer inadvertently placed her foot on the accelerator, causing the machine to lunge forward at terrific speed.

Realizing what she had done, and that she was losing control of the machine, which was swerving rapidly toward the ditch on the right side of the road, Mr. Bryan, who was on the front seat, seized the steering wheel and whirled the car back into the road.

With her foot still pressing the accelerator and grasping the wheel tightly, Miss Pfeiffer is said to have held the wheel so tightly that Mr. Bryan's strong grasp was not sufficient to turn the machine back into the road when it started upon its fatal plunge into the ditch at the left side of the pike, and the big automobile madly down into the ditch, swinging half around as it struck a telephone pole, and then turned completely over, righting itself with the front pointing toward the road, and leaving the occupants crushed and bleeding on the ground nearby.

Mr. and Mrs. Tharp, Miss Ruth Wain, Jesse Crabtree, Randall Allemang, and Carl Andrews, all of whom saw the accident, stated that their attention was attracted by the loud noise of the machine and the cries of the occupants. They saw the car lunge wildly toward the right side of the road, and then swerve sharply to the left, where it crashed into the telephone pole and turned over.

When they reached the machine the two young men, in a dazed condition and forgetful of their own injuries, were endeavoring to aid the two young women who were crying aloud with pain, and from whose wounds the blood was pouring in profusion.

Mr. Bryan still clutched a piece of the steering wheel in his hand, where he had seized it in a vain endeavor to prevent the impending crash.

As quickly as possible the two victims were carried to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tharp, and efforts made to revive them. Miss Edith was unconscious and rapidly grew weaker. Miss Hazel was in a semi-conscious condition. It was evident that they were both fatally injured.

Just a few minutes after Dr. Brock of this city had reached their bedside, Miss Edith passed away. She had been horribly crushed through the chest, besides many bones being broken.

A brief examination disclosed that there might possibly be some hope of saving the life of the elder sister if she was rushed to the hospital. She was accordingly placed in a machine which raced into the city and she was soon under the care of a half dozen physicians who tried in vain to save her, but her condition became more serious until the weakened heart at last stopped beating shortly after eight o'clock, or about two and one-half hours after the accident.

The injuries of the second victim consisted of a crushed skull, crushed chest, broken back and both lower limbs, besides internal injuries and cuts and bruises.

It was a heart-rending scene when the parents were informed of the terrible fate of their two young daughters, and friends and neighbors did all they could to aid the parents in their great grief.

Both of the young men were completely prostrated with grief over the calamity, and helped to console the parents as best they could. They were exempted from all blame for the accident, all realizing that the tragedy was one which could not be averted. It was the first time the young couples had ever been riding together, and they had planned a few hours pleasant ride to Waterloo and return.

Mr. Bryan's injuries consisted of a badly sprained left shoulder and a few cuts and bruises. Mr. Cleary escaped with a dislocated finger on the right hand, and several ugly contusions about his limbs and body. Both men were momentarily stunned when the machine passed over them.

Speaking of the accident, Mr. Bryan stated that when he was informed by Miss Edith Pfeiffer that she could run the machine, and urged him to permit her to do so, that he yielded his seat, and that when she placed her foot upon the accelerator and kept it there, he realized that she was not familiar with the machine, but it was too late to prevent the crash.

The machine was badly damaged, one wheel being torn completely off, and the front part wrecked.

Mr. Cleary stated that when he realized what he was doing after the wreck, he was in the act of removing Miss Hazel from where she was lying with her head partly under the broken wheel. The body of Miss Edith was lying a few feet away from the car when found.

The remains of Miss Edith were brought to this city by the McCoy ambulance, and transferred at once to her late home on Oakland avenue. A short time later the ambulance again went to the beautiful home on its sad mission, and before nine o'clock the remains of both young women had been transferred to the home they had left a few hours before, when life loomed so brightly before them—little realizing the horrible fate that awaited them and the death that leaped and bounded in the machine in which they were enjoying a pleasure ride.

Funeral services will be held at the Presbyterian church, Wednesday morning at 10:00 o'clock, and following the double funeral, the remains will be laid to rest side by side in the Washington cemetery.

Probably nothing in recent years has been more shocking to the entire neighborhood than the sad misfortune which overtook the two young women. News of the accident quickly spread, and a large throng waited about the Fayette Hospital for hours.

Both young women were highly respected and had a great many friends. Mr. Pfeiffer, their father, moved to this city two or three years ago, from his farm a few miles north of this city.

The deceased, besides leaving a heart-broken father and mother, also leave a brother, Leroy, at home, and a sister, Mrs. Cao Mickel, of Dayton, besides many warm friends.

illies. The crimes were committed at night while the victims lay asleep in their beds. In each instance the murderer left but slight clues.

FAMILY WIPED OUT BY FIEND

By Associated Press.

Chicago, July 6.—A family of four was wiped out by blows from an ax in their home in the German settlement of Blue Island, a suburb, last night. The victims were Jacob Neslesla, a German laborer, aged 52, his wife, their daughter and the latter's infant child. Their stiffened bodies and the blood-stained ax alone remained to tell the story when the crime was discovered by neighbors.

Whether the butchery was the work of a maniac or a person seeking revenge was not disclosed. It was learned that the young mother of the infant had been living away from her husband for some time and an effort to find him was begun. Each of the victims was hit on the head.

Twenty-nine persons have been murdered in the last three years in Mississippi, Kansas, Colorado, Iowa and Illinois by axe blows. The details of almost all of the murders are similar and in most cases the murderer's axe has wiped out entire fam-

POSTPONE TRIALS OF AGITATORS

By Associated Press.

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 6.—Nine free speech advocates, most of them identified with the Industrial Workers of the World and all of them associates of the four victims of Saturday's premature bomb explosion in New York, came to Tarrytown today to face charges growing out of the demonstration some weeks ago against John D. Rockefeller, and his son, whose estate is near here.

Perhaps two hundred sympathizers of the defendants came with them from New York but at the request of defendant's counsel trials were postponed two weeks on the ground that needed witnesses were absent.

ORDER HOLDS UP CIVIL SERVICE

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 6.—By executive order President Wilson today exempted from civil service the fourteen commissioned attaches authorized by the new legislative appropriation bill. 12,000 STRIKE

By Associated Press.

Woolwich, England, July 6.—The entire working staff of 12,000 men of the government arsenal here, which supplies most of the guns and ammunition for the British army, struck today. The action of the men was a protest against the discharge of an engineer who had refused to erect machinery on a foundation constructed by non-union laborers.

GOES ON SPECIAL MISSION

By Associated Press.

Washington, July 6.—Jose Vasconcelos, one of the Constitutionalists here, will leave tonight for Saltillo to report to General Carranza on mediation, the attitude of the United States and plans for the resumption of business in northern Mexico. He did not discuss his return to Saltillo further than to say that he expected to make a full report to General Carranza on Mexican affairs as viewed in the United States. Raphael Zubaren said no final answer had come from his chief relative to participation in the proposed conference over peace plans with the Huerta delegates.

The opinion in Constitutional circles prevalent here was that no answer would come until the conference at Torreon, between adherents of Villa and Carranza, was completed. As to the election yesterday, in which General Huerta appears to have been re-elected, Constitutional leaders would not communicate further than to say that it made no difference in the general situation. They intimate, however, that Huerta might still be planning to appoint a secretary of foreign affairs to succeed him and then retire.

Washington, July 6.—The agreement between the United States and Great Britain to protect mining property in Mexico will be extended to include Spanish and Swiss property. Mr. Riano, the Spanish ambassador, today asked Secretary Bryan to admit his country, as well as Switzerland, to the compact.

The Awful Tragedy of Yesterday

The people of this community have never been more terribly shocked nor more profoundly grieved than they were yesterday evening when rumor of a terrible tragedy on the Waterloo pike was confirmed by the cruel facts.

In a flash the lives of two young girls were exacted by the grim reaper.

Why death should come to these two young people at that time and in the shocking manner it did is beyond human comprehension.

It is one of those times when grief stricken parents are called upon to bear a burden of sorrow which no human hand can lighten and when human word and human sympathy, no matter how sincere, is of little comfort.

Four young people, full of hope, full of the exhilarating spirit of youth, appreciative of the joys of life and with their lives and pleasures in front of them, while riding in an automobile along the smooth surface of the inviting pike, stretching like a white ribbon between the fertile fields on either side, were suddenly clasped by the icy hand of death.

Two of them succeeded, through some miracle of chance or fate, in eluding death and two were plunged into eternity.

The lesson which the terrible tragedy teaches should be comprehended by every man and woman, boy and girl in this whole section and that lesson is a simple one.

The terribly fascinating automobile, capable of giving so much pleasure to human beings, is, like so many other blessings mankind enjoys, nothing more nor less than the mask behind which death is skulking ready to seize a victim whenever the opportunity is given.

To many people fail in the exuberance of the moment to be ever mindful of the danger which is at hand and then disaster comes with all its horrors and all its sorrows.

In the profound grief which the community feels for those whose loved ones have been taken, it is useless to dwell upon the awful details. What might have been prevented if chance had arranged the combination of events differently is poor comfort now.

It is one of those cases where no human being was intentionally at fault—where innocent pleasure and kindly motives proved to be but the forerunner of the most terrible sorrow. It is one of those cases when the unexpected happening is alone responsible. But that does not lighten the sorrow which relatives and friends must bear and does not restore the two human lives which have been taken by death.

These awful tragedies frequently go hand in hand, though unobserved by human forethought until the awful price is exacted, with man's greatest blessings and greatest pleasure.

Just why that is true no man can tell but that it is true every man of experience can attest.

Some of the greatest drugs ever discovered to relieve suffering humanity, have proven, in some instances, the cause of the most intense grief. Man, it seems, must pay in human life and human suffering for the joys this life gives.

Why, no one known.

Neither can human intellect comprehend just why the blow should be so terrible when it does come.

The stricken family and friends of the victims of yesterday evening's tragedy have all of sympathy which a grief stricken community can give to lighten the sorrow which has come upon them, but humanity must realize that when the automobile came to give man pleasure, danger—extreme danger—came with it; that when the joy which automobile driving came to man the sorrow which such awful tragedies as that of last evening bring, was at its side.

Ever mindful and watchful of the danger, ever mindful of the sorrow which is but a step behind the joy of automobilizing should be the aim of everyone.

Good Teacher Never Has Truants For Any Length of Time

By JOHN H. WALSH, Assistant Superintendent New York Schools

MY theory is that a good teacher never has truants in her class, at least not for any length of time. We have over a hundred men chasing kids all over the town who won't go to school, and the blame to a great extent is up to the teachers and the principals of the schools from which the truants play hooky.

LET THE TEACHER WHO IS SUSPICIOUS OF A BOY GET TO HIS HOME BEFORE NOON, AND SHE'LL BREAK THE HEART OF THE TRUANT. ANY BOY, OR GIRL, FOR THAT MATTER, WHO IS FOUND OUT TWO OR THREE HOURS AFTER HE OR SHE GOES ON THE HIKE WILL IMMEDIATELY TURN OVER A NEW LEAF. IT DOESN'T PAY TO PLAY HOOKEY WITH A TEACHER WHO ACTS SO QUICKLY.

If the teacher cannot go to the truant's house herself she usually can find a cousin or a sister or a brother near by. It's so easy to catch them that it seems a shame the truants are permitted to go on for over twenty-four hours. It seems to me the less truant officers we have the better we get along.

Lovers of apples will get slight encouragement from the report on the crop's condition made yesterday by Norman Shaw, chief orchard inspector of the State Agricultural Commission. There will be almost no early apples this year, and the winter apple crop will be about half of normal, owing to the June drought, he predicted.

Reports received by the Agricultural Commission state that the swarm of seventeen-year locusts which infested the eastern part of the state this year are about gone. They die after planting their eggs. These will not develop fully until 1931.

Petitions In Fifty Ohio Towns.

WILL NOT WAIT FOR THE WOMEN

Anti-Saloon League Leader Declares That the Nine States Which Have Prohibition Were Voted Dry by the Men—Claim Made That the Liberal Interests Precipitated the Present Fight.

Lancaster, O., July 6.—Temperance forces of the state, under the leadership of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league, have commenced the real struggle for statewide prohibition.

Petitions for the submission to the voters next November of a proposed amendment to the state constitution, prohibiting "the sale, manufacture for sale and importation for sale of intoxicating liquor as a beverage" were put in circulation at meetings held in churches in about fifty cities and villages, according to Wayne B. Wheeler, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon league. Mr. Wheeler was a speaker at temperance meetings held here.

Speakers throughout the state sounded a warning, Mr. Wheeler said, that the liberal interests, in urging the adoption next fall of a proposed amendment which would prevent the passage of prohibitory laws and make invalid the present Rose county local option law, were conducting a campaign of "deception" under the guise of "home rule." He said at least ten per cent of the voters of Lancaster signed petitions and that similar reports were received from other parts of the state. Before Aug. 4 105,000 voters must sign petitions to be filed with the secretary of state.

In a statement Mr. Wheeler declared that aside from repealing the county local option law and barring the possibility of statewide prohibition, the "wet" amendment would jeopardize all state laws which regulate the sale of intoxicating liquor. The statement that the dries were "waiting for the women" to aid them in their battle at the polls for prohibition was characterized by the superintendent as a "wet hallucination." "The people are ready now for prohibition," he asserted. "The nine states which have prohibition did not wait for the women to vote. They were voted dry by the men."

CLAIM CONVICTS CONTROL PRISON

New York, July 6.—James H. Clancy, warden of Sing Sing prison until a few weeks ago, charged that convicts actually control the prison because of their influence with a political ring which makes possible the smuggling of drugs, whisky and contraband supplies. "If there is ever a real investigation of conditions at Sing Sing there will be a scandal that will shock the state," said Mr. Clancy. "Members of a political ring which supplies the prisoners with drugs and whisky are making $25,000 a year of graft. As things stand, there is very little hope for the first term prisoners, the young man who goes up to Sing Sing for the first time and who might be reformed under proper conditions. He is almost sure to leave the prison a drug fiend and acquainted with all of the vices to be found there. Sing Sing costs the state a good deal more than it takes to run it."

SEVERAL THOUSAND ENJOY FOURTH OF JULY PICNIC

"Safe and Sane" Celebration at Fair Grounds Pleases Large Throng—No Accidents Mar Pleasure of Independence Day—Stores All Close—Noise Scarce Until Saturday Night—Interesting Events Attract Much Attention.

With picnics, athletic carnival and resting in the cool and shady places Fayette county's sons and daughters held a very safe, a very sane and altogether a very enjoyable celebration of the Fourth of July. The pandemonium of giant fire-crackers, dynamite canes and heavily charged torpedoes, formerly considered so necessary to a Fourth of July observance, was happily lacking with the result that the list of casualties which usually accompanied this day in years past has been stricken absolutely from the county's chronicle for the year 1914.

A crow flying over the business district of Washington C. H. Saturday would doubtless have come to the conclusion that it had chanced upon another sleeping city. Probably not in twenty years has the business section of Washington been so deserted and while noise of fireworks was not wholly absent it was considerably less than in previous years.

The principal reason for this was the big Sunday school picnic at the Fairground where several thousands persons gathered to eat their basket dinners in the cool of its shade and to watch the athletic tournaments, races, and ball games.

Of these perhaps the most interesting features were the morning contests of the field and track in which practically all the athletes of Fayette county vied for honors and the forty-five medals awarded in these events were pretty equally divided among the contestants. The events were held under the direction of Physical Director J. W. McClung of the Y. M. C. A. and the results, given below, testify to the success and popularity of this feature.

In the afternoon the mammoth throng in the grand stand was treated to pony races, bicycle races and other contests and when the picnickers departed at the close of the afternoon it was with the satisfaction of having enjoyed a perfect outing.

The picnic was under the supervision of Mr. Ray F. Zaner who remained on the ground all during the day and its success is a flattering tribute to his executive ability.

During the evening the huge throngs which included visitors from neighboring towns and from all over Fayette county remained on the down-town streets to listen to the band concert given by the Imperial band and it was not until late in the evening that it showed any sign of diminishing.

Stores Close.

During the day practically every business house in the city was closed with the exceptions of restaurants, cigar stores and hotels, and instead of spending their money for fireworks the great majority of the populace put in the day picnicking.

South Fayette Street

There was an occasional explosion of a firecracker in the downtown district to remind the absent minded one that one hundred and thirty-eight years ago the forefathers of the country met at Philadelphia and signed the declaration of independence of the thirteen original colonies, but that was all. On the whole it is generally conceded that the celebration of this historic anniversary in Washington was more quiet and peaceful than it has ever been.

Athletic Winners.

Below are the results of the morning's athletic carnival at the fairground. The winners are named in the order they finished.

Standing Broad Jump—E. Adams, R. Baughn, R. Lanum. 9 feet 1 1/4 inches.
Standing High Jump—E. Adams, R. Baughn, E. Peterson. 4 feet 3 inches.

A disappointing feature of the meet was the absence of Will Taylor, Washington's sensational high and broad jumper, who was to have made an attempt to break the world's record. Taylor already holds the indoor standing high record and will try out for the Olympic contests, it is thought, next season. Some of the Sunday schools protested against allowing Taylor to enter and he decided to withdraw.

Locals Win Ball Game.

One of the most interesting events of the afternoon was a ball game between a team chosen from the Jeffersonville and Bloomington Sunday school representatives and those of the Presbyterian and Methodist teams of this city. The game was close and exciting and resulted in a victory for the locals who had garnered seven scores at the close of the contest while the losers had but 4.

The contests between the smaller boys were several and closely contested. The results are as follows: Pony race, Ira Barchet; bicycle race, Eldrid McKinney, William Schilder, Joseph Schilder; half mile relay race between three teams of eight each won by Captain Johnnie Griffith's eight; half mile run won by Carl Warner of Milledgeville. Other contests were a saddle race, a wheelbarrow race and three-legged race.

The only contests for the older men were in horse-shoe pitching and two exciting games were played, one by the ministers and another by a picked four of Fayette county veteran pitchers. The championship has not been decided quite in either event.

MEN USE PITCHFORKS IN PITCHED BATTLE SATURDAY

As the result of a pitched battle between George Glaze, white and Jim Wright, colored, which took place on the Henry Hoppes farm four miles north of this city, Wright is now out on $300 bond for his appearance before Mayor Coffey Wednesday morning.

The trouble occurred Saturday in the harvest field on the Hoppes farm and grew out of an altercation between the two men. When the battle opened pitchforks were used with freedom, and both men bear ugly wounds where they were wounded during the encounter.

According to the story of an eyewitness, who also acted as peace-maker and probably prevented murder being committed, Glaze struck the colored man more than once before the blows were returned. Glaze struck him with a pitchfork, and when this became too much for Wright, he retaliated, landing a powerful blow across his adversary's head and causing him to go down in a heap with a long gash across his head.

Other employees interferred and Glaze came to this city and fled an affidavit against Wright, charging him with assault with intent to kill.

city Sunday evening, and funeral services will be held at the A. M. E. church Tuesday afternoon, followed by interment in the Washington cemetery.

He leaves a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Maude Jackson.

FOUND NECESSARY TO REMOVE ARM

On Saturday morning at the Mt. Carmel Hospital Mr. Fritz Meier had his left arm removed, three inches above the elbow, Dr. Chas. Hamilton performing the operation.

For the past five years Mr. Meier has suffered greatly from this arm and last week went to the hospital for special treatment and consultation. As had been feared the trouble was found to be tuberculosis of the bone and specialists pronounced the removal of the arm necessary to prevent further trouble.

Mrs. Meier was with her husband during the operation and will remain with him for the present.

Mr. Meier has a host of friends and acquaintances in this city who are learning of his serious loss with deep regret and sympathy. It is thought that the sacrifice of the arm will prevent spreading of the dangerous disease and that Mr. Meier will fully regain his health.

ON LECTURE TRIP

Rev. Bowman Hostetler left Monday for a series of stereopticon lectures, going to Sabina Monday night, New Holland Tuesday night, Grape Grove, Wednesday night; Bowersville on Thursday night and at the local Christian church Friday night.

The lectures will be given in the interests of the Foreign Christian Missionary work.

RUMORS OF UGLY MOTORCYCLE MISHAP

The story of a serious motorcycle accident, occurring on the Chillicothe pike, was widely circulated Sunday night and Monday morning, but careful inquiry has failed to elicit any definite information as to who the injured parties are.

The story was first told in this city by an automobile party, and was to the effect that a motorcycle carrying a man and woman had passed them about five miles east of this city, and that the cycle was going at terrific speed. When the motorcycle was some 100 feet ahead of the machine it had passed, it struck a pile of stone and the woman was hurled headlong to the ground, and the man also fell heavily.

The report further stated that the party saw the man trying to revive the woman, but she was unconscious. The auto was not stopped, it was claimed.

And here the story ends. Careful search made by telephone, both local and long distance, has elicited very little information, other than that someone had been hurt, but everyone had heard it from someone else who had been told by another party—and so forth.

Other reports stated that the accident occurred near Bloomington, or Staunton, or on the Jamestown pike, but if there was anyone seriously injured the matter has been kept so quiet that careful inquiry has failed to unearth the facts.

ATHLETICS WIN TWO GOOD GAMES

With perfect weather conditions and before large crowds the Athletics took two games from the Gen City Reserves Saturday and Sunday afternoon. The winning of Sunday's game decides the supremacy of the Athletics over the visitors who took a game from the locals earlier in the season.

Saturday's game was the hottest seen on the Athletic diamond this year and the fans were on their tiptoes when the locals squeezed in the deciding run in the twelfth inning, making the score 5 to 4. Reno pitched a good game with Hagerty behind.

Sunday's game lacked the spirit of the one previous but was interesting withal. The score stood 9 to 2 at the finish. Linson did the twirling backed up by Hagerty.

SELLS HIS FACTORY GOES TO SPRINGFIELD

Mr. George B. Swope has disposed of his interest in the Peerless Gas Engine factory in this city, and has accepted the position of chief of the mechanical department of the Springfield Motor Mart Company, taking up his new work this week.

The Peerless Gas Engine factory will probably be moved to some other state and manufactured on a larger scale.

Mr. Swope will probably move to Springfield this fall. He is former owner of the Swope Garage, and an expert mechanic.

SLIGHTLY INJURED IN RUNAWAY MISHAP

Mrs. Carey Persinger and two children were slightly injured in a runaway mishap, Saturday, while near the B. & O. grocery, on N. North street.

A passing B. & O. train frightened a horse owned by Mr. Ducey, and caused it backed against the pony carriage in which Mrs. Persinger and children were seated, overturning the carriage and slightly injuring the occupants.

The pony ran a short distance before being captured.

GASKET BLOWS OUT AMMONIA FUMES ESCAPE

The blowing out of a gasket on one of the ammonia coils at the Washington Ice Factory, Sunday morning early, resulted in ammonia fumes being released.

However prompt action was taken in shutting off the leak, and serious damage was averted.

The principal danger was the strong fumes which have a wonderful penetrating power, and when they escape in large quantities, quickly overcome anyone coming in contact with them.

GREENFIELD GIRLS ARE ORDERED HOME

Two girls, whose names were not given, were picked up in the city Sunday on complaint from their relatives in Greenfield, and ordered to return home at once.

The young women were easily located here after the call for their return was made, and it is claimed their return was asked because they had failed to notify their parents where they were located.

Both girls were much embarrassed over the affair, and indignant over the order being sent here for their apprehension and return home.

CHIEFS UNDER TRUCE

General Carranza and Villa Reach
An Agreement.

MEDIATORS WORK OUT PLANS

Campaign Against Huerta Will Be Pressed, Villa to Have Free Hand and to Maintain His Loyalty to the Supreme Chief of the Constitutionals—Rebel Warrior to Drop General Garza.

El Paso, Tex., July 6.—Within less than a week General Villa will be back in the field at the head of his rebel army, advancing towards Mexico City, if nothing goes awry with plans now being worked out by the "mediators" at Torreón.

Between the claims and counter claims of the Villa and Carranza supporters the matter sifted down to the fact that there will be peace between Carranza and Villa for the time being at least. War against Huerta will be pressed and Villa will do as he pleases. In return Villa will continue to maintain his loyalty to the "supreme chief."

The conference has had the effect of putting Villa closer to the Carranza generals, Obregon and Gonzales, and their commanders, and is expected to bring results in the field. The conference has brought all leaders or their personal representatives together and in future Villa promises to co-operate with these commanders. They promise also to co-operate with him.

Villa is to have the center position in the march on Mexico City and when he can not get aid from his own territory the Carranza element will supply it. He is also to get ammunition when he calls for it, but he will raise his own funds for this purpose. As he asks a permission to import it through Tampico.

Villa's paper money is to be retired and the issue of "Constitutionalist" money sanctioned by Carranza will replace it, but Villa does not pledge himself not to issue more. As the exigencies of the campaign arise, Villa will issue his money as his armies advance toward the Mexican capital.

Villa has agreed to grant one concession in the present truce; that is the dismissal of Federico Gonzalez Garza, according to the stories credited here. Garza is the man who framed the report of the famous Benton "court-martial" that first got Villa in such a bad way with the United States and Great Britain that he had to recognize Carranza in order to get Carranza to shoulder the diplomatic negotiations.

Rebels Capture Town.

Saltillo, Mexico, July 6.—General Jesus Carranza has reported to General Carranza, the Constitutional leader, that he has taken the town of Ceritos, near San Luis Potosi, and that a thousand of his men are pressing toward Queretaro in order to shut off the retreat of the federals. A mighty force of Constitutional troops is gathering for the assault upon San Luis Potosi.

BOAT CAPSIZED

Scranton, Pa., July 6.—Vincent Lee, eighteen, was drowned at Lake Winola when a boat in which he was rowing capsized.

GEN. HUERTA IS RE-ELECTED

Mexico City, July 6.—General Huerta received a majority of votes cast in the presidential election held throughout the territory now held by the federals. The voting was light everywhere. General Blanquet, minister of war, received a majority of the votes for vice president. In the election for senators from the district of Mexico City, Zamacona y Inclan was first and General Pedro Gonzalez second. In the election of deputies Eugenio Paredes was first and Antonio Paredes second. Scattering votes were cast for De la Barra, Gamboa and others for the presidency.

Cleveland, July 6.—Aaron Bergman, thirty-seven, jeweler, was found dead in his store. The police say he committed suicide by shooting. From a note Bergman left it is inferred that poor health was the cause.

ULSTER STILL MAKING MANY WAR-LIKE MOVES

By Associated Press.

London, July 6.—With every week of suspense in the settlement of the future government of Ireland the menace of the military preparations by the Ulster and the Home Rule volunteers increases. The present tendency among the volunteers of the south is to accept leadership by the Nationalist party which John Redmond, offered them. Thus led, there would be a clear division of Home Rulers and anti-Home Rule men into hostile armed camps. The very dangers of a bitter civil war which such a prospect presents, furnishes the best safeguard for peace.

Correspondents of The Associated Press at Dublin and Belfast have written of the situation from the Nationalist and Ulster points of view respectively. The most interesting development is the plan, hitherto unpublished, of the Orange men under Sir Edward Carson for taking charge of affairs by force if a provisional government is set up, and the fact that the commercial men of Belfast have used their influence in Ulster councils to postpone radical action until a Home Rule parliament has been established in Dublin. The great question which confronts the Nationalist Volunteers is how far their American sympathizers are likely to come forward with funds for their arms and equipment.

By Associated Press.

Dublin, July 6.—Estimates of the number of the Irish Nationalist Volunteers vary between 80,000, which is the Dublin Castle figure compiled by the police, and a quarter of a million, which is the estimate given in platform speeches. Careful inquiry shows that there are 50,000 in Leinster, which takes the lead, about 45,000 in Ulster (increasing rapidly), 35,000 in Munster and 25,000 in Connaught.

The difficulty of exact estimate arises from the fact that the movement is not organized from the centre. Forces have sprung up spontaneously in every parish, and so far are only loosely connected with the provisional central body. There has been a complete wiping out of all class distinction, and the rank and file include every grade—farmers, laborers, shop assistants, clerks, doctors, lawyers, and country gentlemen. There is a very strong leaven of time-expired soldiers—old Connaught Rangers, Dublin Fusiliers and Munster Fusiliers, and their experience is proving useful in the drill.

The army has extremely little equipment and almost no money. But the material is excellent and the enthusiasm unbounded. Mr. Redmond's open association with the movement will remove the difficulty of getting money. The men in charge of the movement are for the most part unknown and there has been much reluctance to provide funds till the public knew who would spend the money and for what.

The central body consists of twenty-five men, of them fifteen are said to be Home Rulers in sympathy with Mr. Redmond, but the more active, influential and effective spirits are members of the Sinn Féin party. They have few supporters in the country and the great bulk of the volunteers are supporters of Redmond. Mr. Redmond offered his cooperation to the central body if he was allowed to nominate an equal number of men on it, pending the election of the volunteer branches of a central executive. Failing acceptance he will recommend each county to govern itself.

By Associated Press.

Belfast, July 6.—The leaders of the Covenanters in Ulster profess to consider the Nationalist volunteer as something not to be taken seriously. These Nationalist bands in the Ulster counties drill spasmodically and are not connected with any central organization. All the local leaders act entirely on their own initiative. In some districts the volunteers are split up into factions under opposing leaders, who carry on a newspaper warfare.

The Ulster leaders say that the Nationalist volunteers must fail through the impossibility of getting arms. They claim to have many letters from America showing that the Irish there are tired of contributing to Home Rule, and now that they consider an Irish parliament assured, they propose to let those in Ireland settle their internal questions without help. Even if American sympathizers refill the war chest the present government measures to suppress gun running in all ports would checkmate them.

In many Ulster villages the Nationalist bands are being drilled by retired army sergeants near the halls and parade grounds of the Ulster battalions and the townspeople are able to watch the preparations of both forces.

SEE END OF DEMS

Claim Drift of Public Sentiment
Is Against Democrats.

Washington, July 6.—Republican leaders claim that the drift of sentiment is against the Democratic party and they believe they will win the house in the November election. There is no longer any doubt that the Republicans will make the tariff in its relation to business the paramount issue of the coming campaign. Twenty years ago a Democratic house was succeeded by a Republican majority. This followed the enactment of the Democratic tariff law known as the Wilson act. The figures of recent elections in several sections of the country, made public by the Republican congressional committee, show Republican gains. The committee made this statement:

"A careful analysis of these figures show unmistakably the trend of political sentiment from Maine to California. The swing back to Republican victory is on. The figures show that the condition that resulted in the election of Wilson is wiped out and that the readjustment has been favorable to the Republican party in every instance. The total vote in primary and congressional elections was in most cases less than that in the presidential election two years ago, but even in these instances the Republicans gained."

MISSING MURPHY WANTED

Only Person Living Who Knows Real Story of Explosion.

DROPS QUICKLY OUT OF SIGHT

Known Positively That Four Persons Lost Lives When Dynamite Exploded While Bombs Intended For Young Rockefeller Were Being Prepared by I. W. W. Agitators—Late Developments in New York Case.

New York, July 6.—Michael Murphy, nineteen, a youth of anarchistic tendencies, is apparently the only person living who knows the real story of the fatal explosion that wrecked the building and killed four persons at 1626 Lexington avenue, but Murphy has disappeared.

The dead include Arthur Caron, prominent in I. W. W. circles, and Carl Hansen, an anarchist. Police declare that dynamite exploded while bombs intended for John D. Rockefeller, Jr., were being made.

Since Murphy ran into a police station and told that a subway explosion had done the damage and then went to report to Alexander Berkman at the office of "Mother Earth," an anarchist newspaper, the young man has not been seen. He was directed by Berkman to go out to Westfield, N. J., at once and see Leonard D. Abbott, who was giving a picnic at his country place for the I. W. W. and the Tarrytown prisoners, but he did not obey. He simply dropped out of sight and has kept himself away, despite the efforts of the whole police force of the city to find him.

With Murphy gone, the police had only Louise Berger, stepdaughter of Carl Hansen, one of the dead men, who lived in the flat, and Miss Eleanor Fitzgerald, a member of the staff of the anarchist publication and a teacher in the Ferrer association, to interrogate. They did that job thoroughly and the two women were pried with questions by the police. Nothing of importance was divulged.

The body of Charles Berger was found in the ruins of the building. The hands had been blown off and other parts of the body torn away, but the torso practically unmarked, and the chest and head, frightfully wounded, were discovered pinned up against the wall and hidden by a heap of wreckage. An inquest into the explosion will be held.

EYE ON COPS

Freeport, L. I., July 6.—An amazing situation was revealed in the murder case, which began last Tuesday night when Mrs. Louise Bailey was shot through a window of Dr. Edwin Carman's office. The police are watching the Carman's flat and the Carman is earnestly championing Mrs. Carman's innocence and forgiving the jealousy that led her to hide a daguergraph in his office for the purpose of eavesdropping on his talks with women patients. He is afraid that a pistol will be slipped into his home or hidden in his wife's belongings. He makes no secret of his alarm and of his apprehension that there are persons in Freeport who would go to criminal lengths to produce tangible evidence against his wife. Not an officer of the law has been permitted to search the house nor the grounds unless at least two members of the family were near by, two who could swear to every movement made by the searchers.

While riding in his auto with a New York actor, Dr. Carman was fired on by a man on a bicycle. Three shots were fired. Dr. Carman reported the affair to the police.

CHEWING GUM

It is estimated that 300,000,000 packages of chewing gum, each containing an average of five pieces are sold annually in the United States. These 1,500,000,000 sticks of gum placed end to end, would extend 71,025 miles, or two and one-half times around the world. If stretched into a thread one-sixteenth of an inch in diameter it would reach a distance of 497,875 miles, or from the earth to the moon, wrap three times around that satellite, and back to earth again. If the physical energy used, in chewing gum this nation's supply of gum could be reduced to foot-pounds and applied to machinery it would furnish power in comparison with Niagara Falls would be but insignificant.—Exchange.

BAILEY INQUEST DRAGGING ALONG

By Associated Press.

Y., July 6.—The inquest into the death of Mrs. Louise Bailey, wife of a New York manufacturer who was shot and killed last Tuesday night while in consultation with Dr. Edwin Carman, was resumed today. Assistant District Attorney Weeks exhibited an unopened box of 38-caliber revolver cartridges which he said he had found in the attic of the Carman home. A 38-caliber bullet killed Mrs. Bailey.

The assistant today called Celia Coleman, a negro maid in the Carman home. She said Mrs. Carman complained of having a headache on Tuesday night and said she was going upstairs. The witness saw her leave the dining room and later heard footsteps she believed were those of Mrs. Carman on the stairs.

CHINESE DOCTORS DO LITTLE GOOD

By Associated Press.

Peking, July 6.—The Rockefeller Commission which is here investigating China's needs in a medical and surgical way has already found that a most important point is this: The Chinese must be taught to doctor themselves along modern lines and not rely, except for the present, upon the foreign medical men.

The country is so vast and the need of the medical men so extensive that all the doctors and surgeons in America could be utilized in China. Such a great invasion, or even enough to make any wide impression, is impracticable. The solution must be the training of the Chinese doctors. At present there are only a few score of them trained along modern lines, and these have difficulty in making a living. The Chinaman is suspicious of the second-hand training of the modernized Chinese doctor and if he is moved to resort to foreign treatment he prefers to go direct to the foreign doctor.

The Commission, which is represented here by Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, president of Chicago University, and Dr. Francis W. Peabody of Boston, has not gone far enough to commit itself to any definite plan, but its report undoubtedly will be largely concerned with the problem of making the foreign-trained native doctor respected in China.

The United States Department of State has temporarily detached Roger S. Green from his consular post at Hankow to aid the Commission as an interpreter and guide in its tour of investigation, and the Chinese government, both central and local, has furthered rather than impeded the work of the Commission.

In the medical schools, the Commission has found various men at work trying to coin medical characters and combinations of characters or expressions in Chinese.

It was only three years ago that the first class of Chinese educated in China took their medical degree from the Union College (where American and British missionary doctors work together) here in Peking. Last year the first class, a small number, of women doctors were graduated. Because of prejudice against the treatment of women by men, women doctors will have a valuable place in medical work in China.

While the class of Chinese who prefer the old-style Chinese doctors is still in the majority, the foreign doctors have more than what they can do.

LESS WHISKEY AND MORE BEER USED

Washington, July 6.—Americans drank less whiskey during the past 12 months than they did the year before, but they consumed more beer and smoked a great many more cigars.

The reports to the internal revenue commissioner made public today showed that receipts for the fiscal year just ended totaled $864,069 less than for the preceding year and most of this decline was due to the marked falling off in tax collected on distilled spirits. Detailed statements for the month of June are not yet available, but in the first eleven months of the fiscal year there was a decrease of $3,734,857 in the income from the manufacture and sale of distilled liquor, due in part to reduction in the number of licenses. Estimates on the June receipts indicated the total decline in distilled liquor tax for twelve months will probably be $4,250,000.

Receipts from tobacco taxes show an approximate increase over last year of $2,800,000. This gain is due almost entirely to a phenomenal increase in the cigar trade. The gain in receipts from fermented liquor was about $870,000.
